On behalf of Arizona State University, welcome to the Washington Center. We are pleased you are considering hosting your program with us.

The Washington Center has been home to ASU in Washington, DC since March of 2010. Located north of Dupont Circle, the 108 year-old four-story townhome has been retrofitted to offer intimate event space to accommodate meetings, events, receptions and classes.

The below information has been compiled as a resource to help in your planning. Our staff will also gladly assist you with your planning needs. Please don’t hesitate to ask.
reserving the ASU Washington Center

When booking a room at the Washington Center, we will request the following information. For your convenience, the below questions are also available as a Google form that may be submitted online.

- What is the date/time you are seeking to host your function?
- How much time will you need for set-up and breakdown?
- How many people do you expect to attend?
- What type of function is it? (Standing reception, seated presentation, class, etc.)
- What is the topic of your discussion or the purpose for your function?
- What audio/visual equipment will you need? The ASU Washington Center has many built-in audio/visual capabilities. We will also be happy to help you contract with a local AV provider should we not be able to accommodate all your needs.
- What food and beverage needs do you have? An abbreviated list of caterers is contained in this packet. We will also be happy to recommend additional caterers based on your needs/budget.
- Who will be the on-site contact the day of the event? Name, cell, email
- Who will be helping to arrange the event in advance? Name, phone, email

site visit

If your schedule allows, we always recommend an advance visit to any event venue so you can walk through the set-up of your program, the movement of your guests and discuss any specific set-up needs with the venue’s event manager. This site visit should happen anytime from the day prior to several weeks in advance of your function.
